

ISA Topic 2022-2023

Ocean Rights: for our Earth's life

Bologna, Italy - Times are in CET

Round Table: Strategies, solutions and initiatives for Ocean Rights

Date, Hour: September 25, 2023, h. 5-7PM

Place: Institute of Advanced Studies, Sala Rossa, Bologna, Italy;

Teams link here

Oceans Rights

UN is strongly centering Oceans in the eye of the storm of the Earth's and human's life for this decade (2021-2030) with the impellent challenge i) to radically change our relationship with oceans ii) to achieve a sustainable and equitable ocean economy iii) for life on the planet to survive and thrive.

Within a multifaceted Ocean voyage, in which several UN initiatives (i.e The Ocean Decade 2021- 2030; The Ocean Race 2022-2023; the UN Ocean Conference 2022; the UN World Ocean Day 2022), events (in which hundreds and thousands of marine scientists, economists, advocates, NGOs, policy-makers and governments focus problems, imagine solutions and promote collective actions to revitalize Oceans, we propose the "Ocean Rights: for our Earth's life" UNIBO ISA Topic 2022-2023 to overall reflect and discuss on the new perspective of how Ocean Rights must be harmonized and integrated with other rights, such as Human Rights, Economic Rights etc., building up a Blue Justice to reconcile Humanities to Oceans.

Panellists

Daniela Addis, Founder and Director at Addis Law Firm "Environment&Sea"; Chairman of the professional association Generazione Mare

Ludovica Chiussi Curzi, Senior assistant professor of International Law @UniBO

Michele De Pascale, Mayor of Ravenna, Italy

Massimo Ponti, Associate Professor of Ecology @UniBO

Francesca Santoro, Chair of the UNESCO Ocean Literacy Program, Ocean Decade; Venice

Anastasios Xepapadeas, Full Professor of Economics @UniBO and US National Academy of Sciences

Chairman

Alessia Cariani, Associate Professor of Zoology @UniBO

ALMA MATER STUDIORUM
UNIVERSITÀ DI BOLOGNA